

Spring Final Exam Schedule (tentative) 4.4.17

Vermont Law School Examination Rule: A one exam per day policy is reasonable. If two examinations are scheduled on one day for a given student, he/she may request the option to take the examination of the lower enrolled course on the first day following the scheduled day when he/she is not taking another examination. If this results in three examinations on consecutive days students may also request to postpone one of these. Students are otherwise expected to take their examinations at the assigned time.
